Platelet Rich Plasma Therapies (PRP)

What is Platelet Rich Plasma (PRP) Therapy?

- Process of replacing damaged or depleted cells in the body
- Procedure that uses your own blood to repair your cells
- Helps to increase blood flow and healing cells to areas where injury has occurred
- Used for hair loss, aging or scarred skin, sexual health and joint and tendon injuries
- Safe, natural, and effective solution for many issues

[Blood components]

[After centrifugation]

How does PRP work?

- PRP is blood plasma with the platelets separated out to form a concentrated amount of platelets and other vital growth factors.
- The platelets and growth factors stimulate healing and develop new blood vessels.
- PRP is highly beneficial for increasing collagen formation, skin tightening, and connective tissue regeneration.
- PRP is collected by drawing a small amount of your blood, putting into an FDA cleared device, a centrifuge, and spinning it until the platelets separate from the blood.
- The PRP is then injected into the areas of concern to begin the regeneration and revitalization.
